Next Station

Four years after his first solo CD "The River - Both sides of the story" has been released and widely accepted by critics and international audiences, Italian solo artist Marco De Angelis releases his new work "Next Station".

The new album, consisting of 6 songs all written, arranged and performed by the Italian musician and producer, is enriched by the collaboration of prestigious vocalists as Nad Sylvan (Steve Hackett Band, Agents of Mercy), Robbie Wyckoff (Roger Waters Band), Göran Edman (Karmakanic, Yngwie Malmsteen) and one of the most sought-after drummer in Italy, Cristiano Micalizzi. Confirming the "guitar oriented" style that has already characterized the previous CD, "Next Station" keeps on moving into the territories of Progressive / Art-Rock music, exploring its various facets, and taking the listener through textures made of intricate, but at the same time, sophisticated musical paths as well as some catching melodies. All of that with its own style, but still paying homage to atmospheres and moods by musicians and bands who have made history of this genre.

Enjoy the journey towards the Next Station!
